

Use HTML images

I think you could change using images on your page. For example in the section “Talk to us” are images assigned in CSS, not in HTML. Google suggests avoided this solution “Using CSS to display images that you want us to index”. You should make it in ‘`picture`’ or ‘`img`’ tag. In the next section “Editors and IDEs” we see images with ‘`img`’. You could change it to ‘`picture`’ with for example ‘`loading="lazy"`’ for better optimization or for specifying multiple options for different screen sizes for responsive images. Solutions will be better for Google algorithms. It will help with your Google index.